ANOTHER ATTACK ON CLIFTON MINE STOPPED BY RAIN

Tent Colony of Striking Miners Abandoned Early This Morning.

WELLSBURG, W. Va., July 18.—(By The Associated Press.)—A mine guard stationed on the hill above the Clifton mine, where yesterday Sheriff H. H. White, commanding the State Constabulary, quickly sent a force into the hills, but they returned empty handed. A terrific rain storm broke out immediately after the alarm was given and Captain White expressed the belief that it had scattered the marchers. Not a shot has been fired in the village since the battle terminated yesterday.

Acting on orders from Sheriff Tom Duval, who is filling his dead father's place, the tent colony of striking miners and their families near the mine was abandoned early today. State troops made the rounds of the tents and notified the men and women that they must move out without delay. They lost no time in obeying the order, taking nothing but food with them. The authorities professed ignorance as to where they had gone. Sheriff Duval said he was determined to break up the colony and that none of the people who had been living there would be allowed to return to the tents.

A number of foreign women none of whom could speak English, came to Wellsburg today from Avella, Pa., the mine town across the border where the mob which attacked Cliftonville was formed. Through interpreters they said they were searching for male relatives who had not been killed. They said they believed unidentified prisoners held here and in Wheeling will be made through these women.

For a time last night, Sheriff Duval believed he had in custody the man who killed his father. A prisoner who gave his name as George Harvey had identified another prisoner as Steve Betts, a miner of Avella, who, he said, shot the sheriff. For more than three hours Harvey and the supposed Betts were closely examined by the authorities and it was not until 3 o'clock that Harvey they say, broke down and confessed that the other prisoner was not Betts. They then turned their attention to the other man who said he was Steve Timcadi, a miner of Avella. He declared that he had been compelled to join the march and had taken no part in the shooting. Questioned as to how he came by his broken arm, he said that he was lying in the weeds above the tangle when he was shot and that he was not even armed. Deputy sheriffs, however, said they recognized him as one of the attackers who was very active in the shooting at the tangle.

Another missing man was added to the two who were believed to have gone down in the mine of the tangle when inquiry was made for Steve Mall, a commissary clerk at the mine.

Mall was seen during the early stages of the battle, but no one has been found who remembers seeing him after the tangle was blown up.

State Police and more than a score of deputy sheriffs worked all night in the vicinity of Cliftonville rounding up every man who was unable to give a satisfactory account of his whereabouts Sunday night and yesterday morning. Forty three persons had been arrested up to 7 o'clock this morning, and a telephone message from the mine said that seven more were on their way to Wellsburg.

Sheriff Tom Duval and his deputies expressed their determination to get to the bottom of the "whole nasty business" as one of them expressed it. They were backed up in view were scouring every village and all the roads between the Ohio River and the Pennsylvania state line in the upper part of Brooke County.

Conditions Quiet.
HARRISBURG, Pa., July 18.—Telephone reports to Governor Sprout from Maj. Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the State Police now at the Pennsylvania-West Virginia line, told of conditions being generally quiet. Maj. Adams reported state policemen had turned some wounded men over to the West Virginia authorities.

PLANS OF NATIONAL ARMY KEPT SECRET

DUBLIN, July 18.—(By The Associated Press.)—Talk in Dublin today continues to center around approaching operations on a big scale against the Republican irregulars, but the Free State commanders so far have successfully hidden their plans. When and where the anticipated movement will begin is still only a matter of conjecture.

Meanwhile the national army troops continue to reap scattered successes. It is officially announced that they now have captured Ballyglass, Tullow and Newton, party including prisoners captured by Free State troops during the recent fighting in Dublin, the Nationals now hold approximately 2,000 prisoners. The Mount Joy and Kilkenny men were arrested and taken to the barracks. An unusual order issued by one of the leaders of the irregulars, it was reported today from Kilkenny, was found in the possession of a prisoner when he was captured by the Free State soldiers. The document, it was said, instructs the recipient to "commandeer labor, work day and night and make all roads impassable. The man who disobeys must receive the extreme penalty. You are at liberty to inflict the same on anybody who disobeys your orders."

EAST SIDE NEWS

Visit Former Home.

The J. W. Reeves family motored to their old home near Triune, Monongalia County, Sunday and spent the day. A bountiful picnic dinner was enjoyed by the family, and the day was much enjoyed by all. Those in the party were J. W. Reeves, Prof. Walter Reeves, of Hitestown, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reeves, of Hitestown, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Johnston and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Knight. All the children and grandchildren of Mr. Reeves were present excepting two sons, Roscoe and Frank Reeves, who were unable to be here for the family reunion. Returning home, the party spent the evening at the Coogle Camp on White Day.

Home from Boothsville.

Life and Character Reading

July 18 of this date is Cancer, the sign of the Crab, and the head sign of the Water triplicity. The governing planet is the Moon, and the astral colors are russet, brown and green while the birthstone is a black onyx. The undeveloped Cancer women will go to great lengths to obtain the garments and jewels which her really fine taste covets beyond anything else in the world. These women like to wear sparkling jewels and are always striving to show them to the best advantage.

The men as well as the women are inordinately fond of seeing their name in print, and are always seeking the plaudits of the mob. The men can be very cruel and vindictive and are quick to resent a personal criticism.

Harvest Fields

Lots of farmers will be on the hunt for men to help with their harvests next month and many will complain that there is a great scarcity of men for this work.

But the complainers are not the enterprising up-to-date farmers, for these latter know the value of the Want Ads and are running them every once in awhile nowadays.

The result will be that they will have all the harvest hands they want when harvest time comes.

It will pay you, Mr. Farmer, to use the Want Ads, to secure your extra helpers.
